VARSITY QUINTET HUMBLES NORWICH

First Home Game Results in Victory 35-13

Clever Floor Work and Passing Wins For Midd—Grout Stars For Norwich

In their first game on their home court Middlebury's Varsity five defeated Norwich by the overwhelming score of 35-13. Midd started off with a rush when the whistle blew which Norwich was unable to check and the first half ended with Middlebury in the van 12-6.

The Blue and White five showed a snappy brand of passing and time after time worked the ball under the cadets' basket where Heath and Miske dropped it in. It was the defensive work of Myrick and Christian that broke up the Norwich passing and held them to five baskets during the entire game. Grout was easily the star for and showing the best ability to make his team scoring four of their baskets the ball down the court. Captain Parker played a great game at center for Midd, getting the jump on his man at nearly every turn and caging the fouls whenever he was called upon.

During the halves the spectators were introduced to a new sport which is gaining great favor among the students. Keppler '21 assisted by Breen '20 demonstrated numerous wrestling holds and tricks which were enjoyed by all. It is expected that Keppler will represent Middlebury at the wrestling tournament to be held at U. V. M. in March. After the game the orchestra played for a few dances.

The team that turned the trick was:

Middlebury (35)		Norwich(13)
Miske	lf.	Grout
Heath	rf.	Salman (Capt.)
Myrick	lg.	Smith
U. Parker(Capt.)	c.	Clarke
Christian	rg.	Warden

Goals from floor—Midd: Heath (7), Miske (7), Parker (2). Norwich: Grout (4), Smith (1).

Goals from foul—Parker (3), Clarke (3).

Substitutions—Waite for Salman.

Referee—Kennifick of Montpelier. Timer, Cheesman '19. Time of halves, 20 minutes each.

Campus Board Meeting

A meeting of The Campus Board was held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at which Joseph Kasper '20 was elected an associate editor; William McMaster '20 and Arnold Swift '21 were elected associate business managers, and Madeline Halford '20 was elected assistant associate business manager. It was voted to change the office hours to Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock and Saturday afternoons from 2 to 3 o'clock. Other business brought before the meeting was the consideration of the constitution of The Campus which is undergoing revision.

Phi Beta Kappa Elections

On Friday, February 8, the following Phi Beta Kappa elections were announced: Estella S. Atwell, Ruth M. Bryant, Hannah Dvorcef, Alice K. Fuller, Bertha E. Farrell, Josephine F. Menotti, Marguerite Rogers, Richard H. Buffum and Charles J. Lyon. The initiation will take place on March 22 and Dr. Collins will be the speaker.

CHAMPIONSHIP CUP WILL FALL TO 1918

Juniors Fail to Score a Victory in Series—Sophomores Defeat Freshmen 31-17

Without the services of two of their regulars the senior basketball team defeated the junior five in a hard fought game by the score of 25-23. This makes the third game that the junior team has lost by the close margin of two points. They dropped the opening game to the sophomores by 32-30 and the following week lost to the freshmen in an extra period 18-16. "Beany" Parker, the seniors' crack forward, had to leave for his home to take his physical examination for the draft, and Crippen, the other forward was laid up with an attack of the grippe.

The first half ended with the seniors leading 11 to 10, Gorham and Lyon having filled Parker's and Crippen's shoes exceptionally well. Beginning the second half with a rush the juniors looked as if they would at last break their old hoodoo and score a victory but fate was against them and time after time one of the orange and black players would get the ball into the basket only to have it roll out. Myrick then decided to settle the result and scored four baskets which not only clinched that game but also the championship for the senior class. The juniors have shown good floor work in all their games but they lack a good basket shooter from the foul as well as from the floor.

The annual game between the sophomores and the freshmen resulted in a victory for the former 31 to 17. Heath, the sophs' star forward, played the first game for his class this season and showed up well caging four field goals, and eleven fouls out of thirteen tries. The freshmen were clearly outplayed in the early part of the game and the first half ended with the score 15 to 3 against them.

In the second half, however, the yearlings put up a stiff resistance against the sophomores' offensive and scored fourteen points. These games ended the first half of the tournament and the seniors are leading with three victories and no defeats, while the sophomores and freshmen have one defeat chalked up against them and the juniors have yet to score a victory.

The line-ups:

Seniors (25)		Juniors(23)
Gorham	rf	Holbrook
Lyon	lf.	Plumb
Myrick	c.	Bolivar
Christian	rg.	Jones
Brewster	lg.	Towers

Goals from floor: 1918—Myrick (5), Gorham (3), Lyon (3); 1919— Holbrook (3), Bolivar (2), Towers (2) Goals form foul: Holbrook (2), Towers (1), Jones (6), Myrick (3).

Goals from floor: 1918 (5), Gorham (3); 1919—Holbrook (3), Bolivar (2), Towers (2). Goals from foul: Holbrook (2), Towers (1), Jones (6), Myrick (3).

Sophomores (31)		Freshmen (17)
Ginsburg	rf.	Whitmore
Heath	lf.	Davis
C. Parker	c.	Franklyn
Aines	lg.	Valentine
S. Ross	rg.	Preston

Goals from floor: 1920—Ginsburg (4), Heath (4), Ross (1), Moran (1). 1920—Valentine (2), Whitmore (2), Davis (1). Goals from foul: Whitmore (1), Davis (6), Heath (11).

Substitutions: Moran for Aines. Referee Miske '21. Umpire, Murch. Timer, Cheesman '19.

APOLLO CLUB TO REORGANIZE

New Members Will Be Taken in February 14—Professor Sanford to Give Address

Of all the faculty-student organizations for the furtherance of departmental work the Societas Apollinea, or more familiarly, the Apollo Club, is the oldest. It has passed through its childhood and adolescence and came to its majority several years since. For many college generations of students its pastures were the wandering ground of Elective Latin classes only, but recently it has been glad to welcome to its numbers the advanced Greeks and the Fine Art students as well.

Its Constitution, now revised and enlarged, is here given. A meeting to welcome new members will be held in the Latin room on Thursday afternoon, February 14, at 4 o'clock when a 15-minute paper on "A Unique Latin Club" will be read by Professor Sanford.

ARTICLE I. Object of Organization.

The Apollo Club of Middlebury College has for its immediate object the artistic study of Latin and allied subjects.

ARTICLE II. Qualifications for Membership

(a) A full membership may be granted to all Seniors and Juniors who are taking courses in advanced Latin; or have taken, subsequently to their Sophomore year, two courses in Advanced Latin. All instructors in the Latin department are members ex officio.

(b) Associate membership may be granted to all Seniors and Juniors who are taking one or more courses in Greek of not less than B grade, or who are taking a course in Fine Arts; or who have had subsequently to their Sophomore year, at least two courses in Greek of not less than B grade, or two courses in Fine Arts. All instructors in Greek and Fine Arts are associate members ex officio.

ARTICLE III. Enrolled Membership.

The secretary shall send letters of invitation to all members of the College who are eligible for membership to the Club, and this letter shall be the notification of a meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year. Attendance at this meeting, or in case attendance at this meeting is impossible, a written acceptance received previously to the meeting, shall constitute membership in the Club.

ARTICLE IV. Officers and Executive Committee

The officers shall be a President, a Vice-president, a Secretary, and a Treasurer. The Executive Committee shall be made up of the head of the department of Latin as chairman, and the four officers above named.

All officers shall be elected from among full members only. At the time of election, all officers must be pursuing one or more courses of study prescribed for full membership.

Whenever practicable the President and the Vice-president shall be Seniors; and the Secretary and Treasurer, Juniors.

Associate members are not eligible for election to office.

ARTICLE V. Election of Members.

The Chairman of the Executive Committee shall instruct the Secretary to call the first meeting of the Club during the first semester of the College year, at which the names of all who

THE CAMPUS FUND STILL FALLS SHORT

$324 Have Been Raised To Date

$188 More Must be Raised in Two Weeks—A Final Appeal is Made to Students and Alumni

The campaign which was started four weeks ago to pay off the old Campus debt of $511.67 has resulted in the receipts of pledges to the amount of $324. Within the next two weeks at the latest the balance of $187.67 must be raised to secure the continuance of publication.

The results from various sources show a lively interest in the campaign on the part of a majority of the students and a small number of the alumni. About half a dozen members of the faculty have responded to the call, but by far the greater majority of persons to whom appeal has been made have not responded, and the result has been the necessity of sending out a second letter to the alumni and again urging the students for a heartier and more general support. It is anticipated that the campaign will result in paying off the entire debt. A hearty and immediate response on the part of the alumni is necessary to secure this.

The following statement indicates the amounts pledged by the various groups. Out of a total enrollment of 292 students, 134 have pledged $128.25. Of this sum the men pledged $73, and the women $55.25. Five members of the faculty have pledged $13.50. Fifty-two alumni have pledged $182.25. The total amount raised to date is $324.00.

The above figures do not indicate a very general rallying to the support of the college paper. The next two weeks will decide definitely for the time being whether the College, its undergraduates and alumni are willing to pay the price.

To All Middlebury Men in Service

All Middlebury men, whether they finished their four years' course or not, should be on record with the War Service Committee. We have some two hundred names of men in American camps, on steamships, and across seas, to whom are sent the weekly Campus and frequent letters from members of the main and auxiliary committees. Testaments, magazines, and papers are frequently forwarded. But the special purpose of this note is to call the attention of men in service to the fact that the Committee are also glad to furnish sweaters, helmets, wristers, socks, and other Red Cross supplies to any Middlebury men in need. The young women of Battell and Pearsons have given most generously of their time and labor that a supply of the above mentioned articles may be provided. Do not fail to send in your request for anything which you lack, as the Committee are anxious to do all possible for the comfort of the Middlebury boys.

Myron R. Sanford,
Chairman of War Service Com.

Hunter College has the distinction of holding the first class in the world which gives to women a complete course in wireless telegraphy.

EDITORIAL

We have set ourselves resolutely to the task of paying off the Campus debt; we will not quit until we have done it. We are sure that we are going to succeed, but there is a long way to go yet. In four weeks we have raised $324.00; but in the next two we must have $188 more.

There is no ground for over-confidence. We are going to raise the money because we are working for it —not because of any sense of security in an over-estimated enthusiasm on the part of others. The plain facts are that of some five hundred al who were solicited only fifty-two responded in any practical way. Yet it surely cannot be possible that only one out of ten care whether we have a college paper or not! It would be hard to convince us that not more than fifty-two alumni realize the importance of sending our paper to the training camps and trenches in France. Such a situation is incredible in our institution. Yet fine sentiments, unbacked by financial support in this critical time, will not send The Campus into the trenches or anywhere else. The test of your loyalty must be practical. Not all can give money; but few are unable to give a word of encouragement. Yet we sincerely hope that as large a percentage of educated men and women as the above figures indicate are not so indigent that they are unable to contribute even a dollar to a cause of this nature.

A second and final appeal is being sent to every subscriber who failed to reply to the first. We confidently expect the alumni of Middlebury will rise to the occasion. The deficit is after all very small; but however small, it cannot be paid by standing by and watching the other fellow

If the major part of our alumni follow YOUR example, what are our chances for success?

CONTRIBUTIONS

The Middlebury College Athletic Association has kindly voted $50 for the Outing Club to pay the expenses of six men to an intercollegiate winter meet to be held at Hanover, N. H., on February 22 and 23 under the auspices of Dartmouth College. It is expected New Hampshire State, Williams, Syracuse, Union, Colby and several other New England colleges will be represented.

Last year Middlebury sent several men to a similar meet and they made a most creditable showing. One man secured second place in the distance snow-shoe race. Others qualified for the finals in different events. This year we have a better chance than ever as many Dartmouth winners of last year are no longer in college. Trials will be held on Saturday, February 16, and the men who make the best showing at that time will be picked to represent Middlebury. The events will consist of 220 yard ski and snow-shoe dashes; distance ski and snow shoe runs; form skiing and obstacle races. (Subject to change). Similar events will be held at Dartmouth. Practice is necessary to make the best showing possible and you men know what events you are best suited for and should train yourselves accordingly. The men who attended last year all reported the best of entertainment and a splendid trip in every way.

If we are represented at all, we want to make a good showing and bring some medals back to Middlebury.

To accomplish this, we must work.

If each man does his duty we will succeed, Middlebury will place, and the place will not be last.

F. L. Jones '19,
President Outing Club.

An indoor track-meet with U. V. M. and Norwich is assured for March 2, or 9, at Burlington. There are to be ten events: 440 yard, 880 yard, and 1 mile runs, 1 mile relay, shot-put, standing and running high jump, standing broad jump, and a standing hop-step-and-jump.

So far only ten men have come out for practice. This is not the right spirit. Every man who has any ability at all along this line should come out. The team is not picked yet and everyone will be given a fair show and the best men in each event will be chosen. We should have a squad of twenty-five men at least. If you are entirely inexperienced in the above events come out and try, get some coaching and furnish a little opposition for the regulars. Give them something to work for and by so doing you will be doing your share towards helping win this track-meet.

Middlebury is greatly handicapped by not having an indoor track to practice on, but that does not necessitate our being beaten. We must all work harder to overcome this handicap. In the spring of 1916 we defeated U V. M. This is our first meeting on the track since then. We must repeat. It is up to each man of the college. Make it a personal matter, show your college spirit, come out and win the intercollegiate track championship of Vermont.

Declaration by The American Branch of the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship Through the Churches

Below we print a declaration issued by the American Branch of the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship Through the Churches.

This organization, one of many similar alliances and leagues which have for their object the betterment of international relations, was established on the day that the Great War began, when "Some eighty Christians from ten nations met at Constance, Germany, in the very city and building in which John Huss, a brilliant leader of the Reformation, five hundred years before, had been condemed to be burned at the stake. There with earnest faith and fervent prayer those Christians established the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship Through the Churches. Already ten national councils have been formed—nine in Europe and one in America."

There are a number of features which should commend this organization and its objects to our consideration. In the first place, when we hear so much talk about the failure of the church, it is refreshing to find churches of different denominations uniting in the pursuit of an object which all recognize to be essential to the common welfare of humanity; an object which it is no more than natural and right that the church should strive to attain. Furthermore, the leaders of the movement combine idealism with a practical knowledge of the principles of International Law and the foundations upon which international justice and comity should be based. They seek to bring about the desired result by means of a campaign of education which shall tend to clear away the prejudices and misunderstandings which now exist so unfortunately between the different peoples of the earth. The movement "seeks the continuous promotion of international justice and goodwill. It is free from questions of church organization and doctrine. It is loyal to our government. It does not seek to decide issues in regard to the present war."

Most significant of all, the leaders of the movement are actuated by the Christian spirit of charity and constructive idealism. They emphasize the distinctively religious aspect; the necessity of prayer, of faith, and of unity on the part of the members of the Alliance. "Christ alone carries love across the gulf of race and nation and seeks to make mankind genuinely one."

In view of existing world conditions the American Branch of the World Alliance makes the following declaration in regard to the duty resting upon the church:

The Church of Christ in America should prove itself the loyal and efficient servant of the nation in this time of testing. It should bear upon the heart the President and other national leaders and the men in service, ever praying and striving that the cause to which the nation has dedicated itself may be carried through to high achievement.

The Church in all its branches should humbly and devoutly pray for recovery of the lost consciousness of its essential unity and universality in Christ, establishing in its membership the feeling of a fellowship that transcends the barrier of nation and race. It should be the "light" and the "leaven" of the world, a living bond holding the nations together in righteousness and service.

The Church should build in all its branches throughout Christendom a world-fellowship of goodwill and reconciliation. It should practice self-sacrificing service in the relief of suffering, earnestly cultivate love of enemies, and stand ready to share in the pressing tasks of reconstruction and rehabilitation when this war is ended.

The Church should teach mankind that God's laws cover the whole human life, individual, national and international. It should deepen the desire for national righteousness and truth, unselfishness and brotherliness.

The Church should add its strength to the movement for establishing right international relations on an enduring basis. It should vigorously press for a League of Nations, having such features as periodic conferences, a world court, commissions of inquiry, boards of conciliation and arbitration ,and adequate administrative agencies, to the end that national sovereignty shall be more properly related to international judgment and opinion.

The Churches of America should support the policies announced by President Wilson in his reply to the Pope: "Punitive damages, dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind."

American Christians have in addition their own special and personal tasks in the relations of America to the Far East. They should strive to secure Federal legislation providing for the adequate protection of aliens, the loyal observance of treaties, the early removal of all causes of irritation, and a fundamental solution of the whole Asiatic problem.

These are the principles and the program by which to secure world justice, good will and enduring peace. All American churches and Christians should take part in establishing these principles and in securing these ends.

LETTER FROM A. B. KING

Jan. 9, 1918.

Dear Professor Sanford:

Your letter of November 19 has just arrived and the news and lines of interest and encouragement are certainly appreciated. It has been a pleasure to me to try and look up our Middlebury men and get in touch with them. I have tried to keep the "Committee" informed of the men I have met. Don Salisbury '16 was in Y. M. C. A. work but has transferred to army work and has received his commission as Second Lieutenant. I believe he is in some organization similar to that in which Dan Mason is in. I am sorry I cannot tell you his address as the information I have given is as it was given me by a friend. I wonder if you have the name of M. J. Pond '10 who is a Second Lieutenant in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, A. E. F. It was a great surprise one day to meet him in the town in which I was located.

Walbridge Fullington '18 is located near me and I just missed him the other day when I was in town. A. A. Robertson '15 is in the next town to me and I see him very often. It was through the kindness of Robertson that I have seen the issues of Nov. 14th and 21st of The Campus. There were four of the first issues I did not receive and I have seen none since the 21st. My mail is very irregular.

It would be a great favor if your Committee could send me a dozen of the testaments of which you write. What news I get from The Campus I devour with all sorts of eagerness. I heartily agree with the letters The Campus has received from the men in the service who appreciate letters so much. Letters mean more than anything else that the friends can send. I should be more than glad to hear from the friends at college.

It is very little that I can write you about in the way of news. I would be very glad to tell you about it all when I return. The thousand and one things I do during the day keep me going and my time for writing is so limited I hurry through a few lines in order to keep all my letters answered so that I can hear as often as possible from the friends at home.

My work here is very interesting and yet sometimes discouraging for conditions are not quite as they are at home. But I feel that something is being accomplished and occasionally a word of gratitude from the men makes it very encouraging.

Let me hear from you again, Professor, for I am more than pleased to look forward to another letter from you.

Very sincerely,
Arthur B. King.

LETTER FROM WRIGHT

San Antonio, Texas,
Feb. 1, 1918.

Dear Professor Sanford:

I am taking the time that a norther has given me to catch up with my letter writing. The wind and rain have put a stop to flying for two days and promise to for a day or two more.

I arrived here on the evening of December 30, after a four days' trip from Garden City. All the cadets were transferred at the same time so we journeyed in state on a special train of six Pullmans. We moved immediately into big clean barracks, furnished with hot showers, and life at once took on a rosier hue after the cold at Garden City.

Had the first flight a week after arriving. The instructor took me up about fifteen hundred feet and gave me a short joy ride. Then at a prearranged signal he gave me the control. It was rather gusty that afternoon and of course we bobbed around a bit. But I've since learned that a few of the strange capers were due to my driving. The average time with an instructor is around eight hours so that now I'm loose and doing "solo" work. It's great sport to sail around alone and watch the wagons crawl along the roads and men working in the fields which look like a checker board. Even yet it seems strange to sail around behind a roaring, eight-cylinder engine; but so far my patron god, the winged Mercury, has been gracious and I've not melted the wax on my wings.

Besides flying, our work consists of classes in gunnery, trap-shooting, engines, and wireless. You can see that the time from 5:15 a. m to 9 p. m. is fairly well filled out.

Give my best regards to any of the members of the old Latin classes I had. Wishing them success and the best of luck along with my Latin professor I am,

Truly yours,
Cadet Stanley Wright.

"OVER THE TOP"

ARTHUR GUY EMPEY

Fired by the tragedy of the Lusitania, Arthur Guy Empey, an American boy, got into the world war a couple of years ahead of his country. Empey enlisted in the British army. His only purpose was to do "his bit" for humanity. For seventeen months he fought with the heroic British Tommies, taking part in scores of battles and trench raids. Finally, desperately wounded he was invalided home. Today he is the best known and most popular war writer that the great conflict has produced. His stories of the horrors, the thrills, the humor and the comradeship of the trenches are bringing him an unexpected reward for the sacrifices which he made. Empey knows how to write in strong, plain, newspaper English and his true, red-blooded stories of the war grip the reader as the greatest works of fiction never did. Hundreds of thousands of copies of Empeys "Over the Top" have been printed but the presses cannot keep up with the demand. Everything that Empey writes about events transpiring "Somewhere in France," where the heart of America is today, has just as strong an appeal.

GERMAN

WAR PRACTICE

Destruction of the Library of the University of Louvain

From an article in the London Times of November 4, 1915, by M. E. Durham, quoting Professor Leon Van der Essen, who had recently seen the librarian, Professor Delannoy, who went to the spot August 27, 1914, to see whether anything could be saved:

"The Germans did not penetrate the building, but contented themselves with smashing the main window looking on the Vieux Marché. Through that window they introduced some inflammable liquid and fired a few shots, causing an immediate explosion.
"On the night of Tuesday, the 25th, a father of the Josephite College, which is located a few yards from the spot where the Germans smashed the main window, called the attention of the commanding officer to the fact that the building he was going to destroy was the University Library. The officer replied, textually, 'Es ist Befehl!' [It is the order.] It was then 11 p. m. These are the facts."

That our own Universities and Libraries have not suffered the fate of Louvain is due to the unbroken line of our Allies. To secure to all peoples, great and small, self-government and the peaceful use of learning, the United States is at war.

SCHOLARS may help by saving now to buy Liberty Bonds for themselves and counselling others to do so.

Colonel Ilsley Leaves $10,000 to Middlebury College

Colonel Silas A. Ilsley, whose recent death is mourned throughout Addison County, has rendered a final token of the regard which he has always had for old Midd by leaving in his will the sum of ten thousand dollars to the college without any obligatory conditions as to its use. In spite of his many other interests the generous and noble benefactor of Addison County always had a deep feeling of kindliness toward the "college on the hill" and at his death gave substantial evidence of his regard. He will in turn be remembered by the students whom his generosity aided. Below is the clause pertaining to the college as it appears in the will:—

Seventh: I give and bequeath the sum of Ten thousand dollars ($10,000) to Middlebury College, of Middlebury, Vermont, to be paid to the trustees of said college or such persons as are by law authorized to take bequests on its behalf.

Miss Russell would like Chapel 12 papered, painted, and refurnished in a Turkey red; one of her instructors will present the matter to the faculty. Hope they listen!

Mrs. Wiley gave the second of her series of "Folk-song Sings" on the subject of American Folk-songs at Pearsons social hall last Friday afternoon. As before, she had a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. Wiley sang and explained Hawaiian and Indian songs, songs of the Kentucky mountaineers and the negroes, finishing with the old favorite, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot."

KRAZY KORNER

The special meeting of the Kickers' Club was opened by the vice-president, Mr. Chapman, last Tuesday at the Mead Memorial Chapel at 10:01 a. m., the president, Mr. Brewster, being sick with the Latin measles. The following is a brief account of the meeting.

Dana Carlson spoke tenderly and feelingly about the trials of the college choir in being compelled to make their "joyful noises" without the support of the organ. He moved that the chapel organ be removed to the gym. Whitney, the leader of the Conservative element, took the floor at once and argued against the motion. The words flew thick and fast. Dana waxed as eloquent as a bumble-bee but the Opposition rose to the emergency. Mr. Demosthenes and Mr. Cicero weren't in it in comparison. After a fierce debate the Radicals, led by Dana, won by one vote. The chapel organ is to be removed next Sunday morning before breakfast in a wheelbarrow by Dana.

Adkins announced his pleasure at reporting that every student in History 4 was rewarded with a zero for remembering a long forgotten name. He moved that the members of said class celebrate by taking a day off. The motion was unanimously carried.

Everitt moved the assemblage to tears as he pled that Professor Abbott be urged to increase the amount of required reading to be done by his Poli. Sci. classes.

Moulton put forth a touching appeal, urging the necessity of growing a mustache prior to Commencement.

Gorham announced his plan of translating Hegel's Philosophy into Chinese At last Kenny will do one sensible thing.

Plumb was found guilty of spending an hour in preparing his Geology lesson. The Club strongly urged him to consult a physician.

The following notice was then read by the chairman: "Lost, strayed or stolen! The Senior Council. Finder please return to the Discipline Committee of the freshman class. No questions asked. Reward offered."

The meeting closed with a powerful sermon by Sam Cohen on the subject, "The Prime Necessity of Flunking in at least Two Exams." During the discourse a chorus of "Amens" was heard from various members of the Club. A collection was taken up which amounted to 16 cents, a Greek grammar, and two and a half pages of Perkie's Calculus. This generous and scholastic offering was donated to The Campus to be applied on its "Liberty Drive."

Law Students

THE BOSTON UNIVERSITY

gives the student such training in the principles of the law and such equipment in the technique of the profession as will best prepare him for active practice wherever the English system of law prevails. Course for LL. B. requires three school years. Those who have received this degree from this or any other approved school of law may receive LL. M. on the completion of one year's resident attendance under the direction of Dr. Melville M. Bigelow. Special scholarships ($50 per year) are awarded to college graduates. For catalog, address are eligible for election to membership shall be acted upon. At this meeting the date for the next shall be fixed at which the new members are to be present and the new officers elected for the ensuing year.

ARTICLE VI. Election of Officers.

The Secretary shall read the names of all persons eligible for the several offices, and balloting shall proceed without further action. The election of all officers shall be by secret ballot and without nominations. A plurality vote constitutes an election.

ARTICLE VII. The Quorum.

For purposes of election of all officers, election of new members, and amending the constitution, a quorum shall consist in the attendance of not less than three-fourths of the enrolled membership. For purposes of transacting any other business, a quorum shall consist in the attendance of not less than one-half of the enrolled membership.

ARTICLE VIII. The Constitution.

(a) The constitution may be amended at any time by the proper quorum.

(b) Copies of the constitution shall be filed with the Secretary, and with the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

(c) The constitution shall be read entire at the annual meeting first attended by the new members, and preceding the election of officers.

Alumnae Meeting

Through the efforts of Marguerite Ellison '12 and Sophia Musgrove '15 a number of the Middlebury alumnae of Berkshire County, Mass., met at the home of Miss Musgrove in Pittsfield on Saturday afternoon, January 19. The object of the meeting was mainly to show our devotion to the College by rallying to the support of President Thomas in his endeavor to raise the $300,000 Endowment Fund. Rev. Mr. Hammersley '04 of North Adams gave us an interesting and inspiring talk as to why we should be glad to do all we can toward repaying our debt to the College.

At the conclusion of the meeting Miss Musgrove served tea and we all stayed to enjoy a social hour. We felt so enthusiastic over this meeting that we are planning to hold another in the near future.

Those present at Miss Musgrove's were William H. Hammersley '04, Isabelle Delevan ex-'11, Marjorie Bates '12, Eunice Cady Meeker ex-'16; Sophie Musgrove '15, Clotilda Hayes '15, Josephine Tracey '15, Marguerite Heaphy '17.

COLLEGE NOTES

Margaret Chatfield '18 is spending the week-end at the University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

Through inadvertence the name of Gordon A Swan '21 was omitted from the list of Delta Tau pledges given in last week's issue.

Miss McNeil continued her reading of "Private Peat" during the knitting hour on Wednesday afternoon. An interested and industrious group of girls were present.

Christine Webster '18 spent a few days at her home in Whiting last week. Her brother, who is stationed at Newport, R. I., was home for a short visit during her stay.

A meeting of the junior class was held Tuesday afternoon, February 4, in the Hemicycle. The business brought up was whether or not the class shall give a Prom. It was voted to have a committee appointed whose business should be to investigate and report within two weeks on the advisability of giving the dance.

President Thomas left for Boston on Thursday where he attended the annual dinner of the Boston alumni.

Hepburn Hall Student Government Rules.

The following rules were voted at a meeting of the men of Hepburn Hall held Tuesday evening, January 29, 1918.

1. The men of Hepburn Hall do hereby authorize the Senior Council to provide for the regulations of the conduct of the residents of the Hall in accordance with the following rules.

2. The Senior Council is instructed to appoint, in such manner as it may judge best, two or more monitors for each floor who shall duly enforce the rules which the men of the Hall have themselves determined upon. Less than two monitors for a given floor may be appointed if conditions seem to warrant it. If the Chairman of the Senior Council is a resident of the Hall, he shall act as president of the governing body, and as chairman of the board of monitors. The chairman shall nominate a vice-chairman to serve during his absence.

3. The enforcing of these rules shall rest entirely with the board of monitors, except in such cases with which it is unable to deal, or in case of appeal to the Senior Council over the authority of the monitors.

4. Quiet hours shall be observed between the hours of 7:30 to 10:30 p. m., and from 11:30 p. m. through the remainder of the night on every night except Saturday. Quiet hours shall be observed from 12:00 p. m. Saturday night to 9:00 a. m. Sunday.

5. During quiet hours, no musical instrument shall be played anywhere in the dormitory or social hall, nor shall there be any unusually loud talking or shouting or singing. A reasonable quietness shall be maintained in moving about through the hall.

6. From 10:30 to 11:30 on every night in which quiet hours are scheduled musical instruments may be played in the rooms only and with the doors closed. Playing or singing or shouting in the hall-ways during the hour is prohibited.

7. Rough-housing in the hall-ways, the stacking of rooms, and breaking of furniture and electric lights is prohibited. Excessive disturbances of any sort are prohibited at all times.

8. No water, or other articles shall be thrown from the windows of the dormitory.

The monitors have been appointed as follows:

1st Floor—Hebard and C. Parker.
2nd Floor—Buffum and Hamilton.
3rd Floor—Everitt and Webb
4th Floor—Moulton and Fellowes.
5th Floor—Fanning.

Military Ball Will Be Held

On Washington's birthday the Middlebury College Battalion of the Vermont Volunteer Militia will hold a military review and ball in the gymnasium. An invitation has been sent to Colonel Johnson and it is expected that he will attend. Company A will give a short exhibition of the squad and company movements, while Company B will go through the manual of arms. Both companies are putting in extra drill hours in order that they may make a creditable showing before Colonel Johnson and the other visitors. All the men will be in full uniform and arrangements are now being made whereby soft white shirts will be worn in place of the regulation gray flannel. Sergeant Belden has charge of all arrangements and has selected a committee to assist him.
